

A day in the garden at Comet

Children are learning lots of different things in the garden each day. These boys are sitting in the shade and enjoying reading their books.

Outdoor Play at the Comet Nursery – A day in the garden

There are lots of opportunities for role play in the garden. These children are basing their play on their first hand experiences. They could be on their way to Cafe Comet.	Note the ramps to develop imaginative play in the sandpit and the small world play on the table in the background. There are opportunities to design and make things too – like the characters shown on the tray.

As long as its not too wet and windy, there is always a graphics area outside.	Practitioners always ensure they provide resources which stimulate children's play.

This brings us to the end of our section on outdoor play. Many thanks to the practitioners at Comet for sharing their work with us. You will have noticed that the resources they provide encourage all children to engage in a wide range of activities.

Comet has just received an excellent Ofsted Inspection Report. Congratulations to all concerned – practitioners, children and parents.

The outdoor curriculum covers all the areas of learning including mathematical development.
