

Is your writing Level 2?

- Does your writing make sense when you read it back?
 - Are you using some interesting words?
 - Have you thought about who the reader is, and written in a style suitable for them?
 - Do your sentences follow on from each other so they fit together?
 - Have you remembered most of your full stops and capital letters?
 - Have you spelt your 1-syllable words correctly, and sounded out the others?
- Are your letters formed correctly, and are they all the same size with capitals larger?

Is your writing Level 3?

Does it have everything from the level 2 list AND

- Is your writing organised?
- Is it imaginative? (if it is a story!)
- Have you organised it for the correct genre (writing type?)
- Have you thought about who will read it and written it for that person – formal/informal, personal/impersonal etc.
- Have you used a variety of vocabulary?
- Are your sentences in the correct order?
- Are your sentences structured properly?

- Is your spelling usually accurate?
- Are all your full stops, capital letters and question marks in place?
- Is your writing easy to read and joined?

Is your writing Level 4?

Does it have everything from the Level 3 list AND

- Are your ideas organised and put into sections or paragraphs?
 - Is your writing lively and interesting?
 - Do you keep to your main points and develop them?
 - Is your vocabulary interesting?
 - Have you used some complex sentences?
 - Is your spelling accurate?
 - Are all your full stops, capital letters and question marks in place?
- Have you used speech marks and commas correctly?
 - Is your writing easy to read, fluent and joined?

Is your writing Level 5?

Does it have everything from the Level 4 list AND

- Are your sentences organised and in paragraphs?
- Is your writing varied and interesting?
- Is your writing in the correct form, appropriate for the reader?
- Is your vocabulary imaginative and have you used technical words where necessary?
- Have you used a mix of simple and complex sentences?
- Is your spelling accurate?
- Are all your full stops, capital letters and question marks in place?
- Have you used speech marks, apostrophes and commas correctly?
- Is your handwriting clear, fluent and joined, and have you changed it where necessary?