Miss Dionysius and the children in Y6 at St Dominic's R.C.

A huge thank you goes to Miss Dionysus and her class for the fantastic photographs they've contributed to the site. The children look like professional forensic scientists with their lab coats on! Hope you managed to solve the crime!

'The best part of CSI Hackney was when we were using different experiments to test the powders. The beset experiment was the comparing experiment.

In the comparing experiment we had to observe all the powders and match it to the powders and match it to the powder found at the scene. I look forward to learning more CSI in secondary school.'

'Class 6a started a booklet called Hackney CSI (Crime Scene Investigations). The booklet was about a professional singer named Eva Dediva and someone stole her pooch and jewels. The booklet told us all the people who worked for her and you had to suspect who it was.

I really enjoyed doing the task and though it was really fun to do. It was a fantastic idea of how to learn but in a fun way. The booklet was excellent and I can't wait to finish the other half in year 7.'
